“We highly recommend Mark Millstein to anyone looking for a great real estate broker.

Mark is personable, intelligent and very knowledgeable, and he is able to quickly and keenly assess and communicate what needs to be done in the complexity of each phase of selling a house. His significant experience, not only on the business and negotiations end, but also with remodeling homes, was invaluable in enabling us to quickly and efficiently prepare our house to ready it for sale. We also appreciated his honesty, dependability, and authenticity during the process. All of these qualities, together with his excellent responsiveness, resourcefulness, and efficiency, made Mark an invaluable resource and partner throughout the sale process.”

– Linda and John D.

An Inside Look at Marin County Real Estate

2022 was met with rising mortgage interest rates, stock market declines, inflation, and economic uncertainty that effected the Marin Real Estate Market, most notably in the second half of the year.

The second half of 2022 began to show a real shift in the overall market. Although fewer homes typically sell during the second half of the year compared to the first half, the second half of 2022 experienced a significant 20% reduction in sales volume compared to the first half of 2022. By comparison, the difference was just 8% between the first and second half of 2021.

The speed and change in market conditions are highly city-specific and supply-driven: communities experiencing a continual low number of homes for sale will benefit from buyers who are motivated and able to purchase.

While it is difficult to predict the near-term impacts of mortgage rate hikes and macro-economic headwinds, some buyers have paused their plans to purchase as they wait for additional clarity in the financial markets. On a positive note, household finances are solid and may potentially lead to more buyer activity once the economic trajectory is clear.

Tiburon

Nearly 27% fewer Tiburon homes sold in 2022 compared to 2021 as 118 homes sold (vs. 161 in 2021). The average selling price in the 2nd half of 2022 was $3.9 million, below the 1st half 2022 average of $4.5 million. Forty-eight homes sold during the 2nd half of 2022 compared to 66 homes selling during the same period in 2021.

During the 2nd half of 2022, Tiburon did experience the effects of changing economic conditions as slightly fewer homes sold above the asking price (35% sold above ask), and the number of multiple offer sales (37%) slightly decreased compared to the first half of 2022. For those homes selling over the asking price, the average percent over was 5.1% compared to 12% during the 1st half of 2022.

The long-term limited availability of Tiburon homes and its continued desirability will likely prevent any great shock to the market. Current activity and pricing may become further impacted if buyer reluctance were to accelerate due to dramatically deteriorating economic conditions.

With the market in transition, it is now vitally important to prepare your home to look its absolute best. Homes in sought after locations that are prepped for sale and priced to reflect the current market are experiencing noticeable buyer interest.

Please call me when you're ready to discuss maximizing the value of your home and pricing. I can also share with you how I will make your selling experience – from readying your home for sale to clear through the end of your move – hassle-free.

Best Regards,

Mark Millstein

- Data-driven insight. I extensively analyze market activity so that my clients have a meaningful understanding of the market and can make better decisions.
- Negotiating power. Contract negotiations and home inspections are complex; the devil is in the details. I scrutinize those details to develop a strategy that eliminates surprises. Whether buying or selling, my clients have the upper hand in understanding their contracts and inspection reports.

My role is to understand the data and use market intelligence to support you in navigating this dynamic environment. I am always available to discuss strategies for selling your home, purchasing a new home, or to address any questions you may have.

Seeing the possibilities in a property is my art. Maximizing value for my clients is a science. I hope you will consider contacting me for your future real estate needs.
